Public Notification

This notification is required by the State of Colorado to inform you of the Town of Red Cliff water system.

As of February 10, 2012:

- The Town's water service has been interrupted since January 30 because some water mains have been freezing.
- The entire town had no water service beginning on February 9 because of freezing in the water main that comes from the town water plant into town.
- The problem is pressure related and there are no safety issues. Eagle River Water and Sanitation District has been regularly testing the town's drinking water and it is safe.
- Water in the system is safe, but currently unavailable
 - Bottled water is available at Town Hall
 - 500 gallon water bladder is at the fire station on Water Street to fill up personal jugs
- Showers are available at:
 - Avon Recreation Center
 - Vail Ski & Snowboard Academy in Minturn
- Work crews are on site to locate the frozen section of the town water main. Water service will not be available until the blockage is found, and the main line repaired.
- The frozen main is blocking water from flowing in the Town water system, so residents will continue to be out of water, probably throughout the weekend.
- The Town and its contract operator, Eagle River Water and Sanitation District, will continue working until water service is fully restored.
- Please share this Notice with anyone who may not have received it
